BARKING HOSPITAL BOSSSES SLAMMED

By Matthew Stanton

HEALTH officials have been slammed for delaying much-needed services in a £12million hospital extension.

Barking and Dagenham Council members claim sections of Barking Hospital, in Upney Lane, remain 'empty' despite opening in March.

The extension was built to accommodate maternity services, a polyclinic, a pharmacy, ophthalmology, mental and sexual health services while trying to ease the burden placed on Queen's Hospital, in Romford, and King George Hospital, in Goodmayes.

The hospital has opened its sexual health centre and its mental health services, but its birthing centre, GP-led urgent care centre and diagnostic services, such as X-ray, ultrasound and MRI scanning, are yet to start operating.

Councillor Rocky Gill (Labour, Longbridge), deputy leader of Barking and Dagenham Council, said: "This is a disgrace.

"I want all the hospital services open to the public. Local residents deserve this, not a brand new £12m hospital that is empty.

"This hospital should have been built a year ago and its services, especially its maternity unit, should have been helping both Queen's and King George hospitals by now."

Mr Gill believes the extension, which was first put to the public in 2002, has suffered because of NHS reforms.

Barking and Dagenham Primary Care Trust first proposed the plans until becoming NHS Barking and Dagenham, which then changed to the Outer North East London Community Services (ONEL).

ONEL make budget decisions on behalf of Barking and Dagenham, Redbridge, Havering and Waltham Forest. The responsibility of running the Trusts is the Strategic Health Authority London.

A spokesman for ONEL said 50 per cent of the building was operational with the sexual health centre opening to patients in May last year and mental health services available from February.

He added: "Barking Community Hospital isn't standing empty. Building work was completed in March within budget, following a substantial two-year redevelopment, which cost approximately £12m.

"Some services have already moved in and we are now carrying out final checks on the building and making finishing touches before other services move in.

"The midwife-led birthing unit has four beds which will provide maternity day care and is being equipped as we speak.

"A staged opening of the maternity unit was always part of the plan and it is expected that ante-natal services, run by community midwives, will be the first to be up and running, with mothers being able to give birth in the unit once it is fully staffed."

Mum admits theft

YANEEK Elliston, of Lockwell Road, Dagenham, has been ordered to pay £500 compensation after admitting theft.

The 32-year-old mother pleaded guilty at Basildon Magistrates Court on Tuesday. She was caught taking three dresses from TK Maxx in Lakeside on Monday.

Elliston paid £100 in court and will pay £5 a week to the company. She also received a six month community order along with 10 days' employment training.

Met Tracks scheme

THE Met Tracks scheme will be launched at Barking College on Friday, June 10, at 11am.

It offers free professional athletic coaching to talented teenagers and will focus on youngsters with a challenged educational or behavioural history.

The sessions will be coached by ex-European Championship 100m runner, Jonathan Barbour - for more, log on to www.met-track.com

Barking flat blaze

FOUR fire engines and around 20 fire-fighters were called to a fire in a seven-storey block of flats at Arboretum Place, in Barking, last Tuesday.

The blaze was in a flat on the third floor and around 10 people were evacuated as a precaution.

The Brigade was called at 2.08pm and the incident was over by 3.08pm.

The cause of the fire is currently under investigation.

College hosts regional heats for skills competition

MORE than 120 construction and building services trainees flocked to Barking & Dagenham College last week to compete in the regional heats of Britain's biggest skills competition.

The SkillBuild London heats and Skill M&E Southern England heats were hosted by the college, which provided industry-standard workshops and facilities for the event.

The trainees competed in brick-laying, carpentry, cabinet making, joinery, painting and decorating, wall and floor tiling, plastering, electrics and plumbing - all under the watchful eye of a number of judges as well as TV personality, Tommy Walsh.

The winners of the competition will be verified this week but those who get through these heats could be selected to represent the UK at the next WorldSkills competition, which is due to take place in Leipzig, Germany in 2013.

ADVICE: TV personality Tommy Walsh with competitors from Barking & Dagenham College.

Business profile

This week, we speak to DAVID FARR, 30, who co-owns cycle firm Nip Nip, which is based in Barking, with his brother, Matthew

Where are you from?:

I was brought up in East London and currently live in South Woodford.

We chose to set up business in Barking as it is an excellent location right on the cycle super highway into the City, which is key to our business success.

How did you get to where you are now?

I spent eight years working in the City in financial services and used to commute every day on the underground, which was such a harrowing experience.

It got so unbearable at one stage I bought an electric bike to cycle into work which was not only quicker but much more enjoyable.

It was this that made me realise the potential of electric bikes and my brother and I looked into starting our own business.

What excites you about your business/ trade?

It is one of the biggest growth industries at the moment and relatively new in the UK.

It is the 'newness' of this technology that makes it exciting.

It is also rewarding when you see the benefit it brings people, especially when they ring us up to thank us.

For some people, it has literally changed their lives.

How did you manage to successfully start your business in the depth of a recession?

Actually, it was the recession that helped us out. People are starting to feel the pinch with soaring petrol and insurance prices so it is becoming hard for them to afford to run a car.

Electric bikes start from £400 but you will easily make it back in a few months not having to pay petrol.

They are also so cheap to run - to charge the battery costs about 1p per 10 miles so it is extremely economical.

Where do you see yourself in a year's time?

We want to spread the message about the benefits of electric bikes and make more people see the benefits compared to cars.

I want to see electric bikes become a mainstream selling product, which I think is achievable as the UK is so far behind other European countries.

In Germany, one in every four bikes sold are electric, and in Holland it's one in five. But in the UK the number sold is so small, it's impossible to work out the ratio.

What advice would you give to people wanting to get into the profession?

Believe in your product. If you have a passion for what you do, you are 90 per cent of the way there.

What do you think your company does really well?

We also offer safety courses for cyclists, which is unique to us.

We teach people how to safely cycle in the Capital with training including basics like pedal control and using gears properly to safely navigate busy junctions.

Traffickers sentenced

THE girlfriends of two prisoners have been sentenced for their part in a string of offences including trafficking prohibited items into a prison, corruption, money laundering, and conspiracy to rob and drug dealing.

Leanne Angel, 25, of Rainham Road, Rainham, pleaded guilty to one count of concealing criminal property and one count of money laundering and was sentenced to 51 weeks in prison, suspended for 18 months.

She was also ordered to complete 100 hours of community service.

Samantha Patten, 25, of Lymington Road, Dagenham, was charged with one count of concealing criminal property and one count of money laundering. She was sentenced to six months suspended for 18 months and was also given a curfew order.

Their partners and a prison officer were also sentenced at Southwark Crown Court on Friday.

Richard Carew, 34, of Celt Close, Sittingbourne, Kent; James Mansbridge, 36, a prisoner at HMP Whitemoor; and Peter Henderson, 33, a prisoner at HMP Brixton also appeared.

They were arrested following a proactive intelligence-led investigation by the London Prisons Anti-Corruption Team (LPACT) into the supply of Class B drugs to prisoners of HMP Pentonville.

The investigation was launched in January 2010.

During the investigation it became clear that Carew, who was at the time of the investigation a prison officer at HMP Pentonville, was smuggling mobile phones, drugs and other drug paraphernalia into the prison using concealed compartments in everyday household items such as wall clocks or coke cans.

The cannabis and mobile phones were being circulated around the prison by Henderson and Mansbridge, who shared a cell at HMP Pentonville.

Angel and Patten were responsible for the financial side of the drug dealing business. They would receive payments into their bank accounts for the drugs that were to be sold.

More than a kilo of cannabis was recovered from inside HMP Pentonville, but police believe that Carew smuggled in much more over a protracted period of time.

A number of mobile phones believed to have been smuggled into the prison by Carew were also found.

Henderson and Mansbridge were also produced from prison to be charged with a string of similar offences.

Thinking about university but worried about how much it costs?

Here are the facts

Changes to student finance are generating plenty of headlines, but many young people and their families are unsure what it actually means for them.

"Parents and students will have read many different things about the cost of going to university", says Lynne Condell, chair of the National Association of Student Money Advisers. "It is important that they can separate fact from fiction."

Here are five key things you need to know:

- 1) The changes will apply to all new students studying from 1 September 2012 onwards at institutions in England.
- 2) Just as now, most students will not have to pay for their university education upfront – because loans are available. For full-time students repayments only begin in the April after students have finished their study and start to earn more than £21,000. Full time students starting a three-year course in September 2012, will commence repayments in April 2016 at the earliest.
- 3) Some universities have announced that they plan to charge students £9,000 a year for their courses. Most universities offer discounts, living cost grants and scholarships for students from less privileged backgrounds – more information can be found on their websites.
- 4) Students need to eat, buy books and have a roof over their heads while they're at university. For full-time students there are loans to help towards your living costs. Most students will qualify for some living cost support.

If your household income is £25,000 or less, you can receive a non-repayable grant of up to £3,250. Students with household incomes of over £25,000 but not more than £42,600 can get a partial grant, with the actual amount depending upon income.

Students living away from home can apply for living cost loans, these go up to £5,500 a year (£7,675 a year if you're at a London university and living away from your parents home)

Additional financial support may also be available for students with disabilities, children or adult dependants.

- 5) Once you are due to repay and are earning more than £21,000, a monthly repayment will be automatically deducted from your salary at a rate of 9% of earnings above that threshold.

This table illustrates the sorts of repayments graduates will make:

Salary	Monthly repayment
£21,000	£0
£25,000	£30
£30,000	£67.50
£35,000	£105.00

No student's personal circumstances are the same, of course – and these facts are only a guide.

To find out how the changes will specifically affect you:

- contact the universities which offer the courses you're most interested in, look at their websites, and – best of all – visit them on an open day
- read the online information available at UCAS (which handles university admissions) and DirectGov (the most complete source of information available www.direct.gov/yourfuture)

- talk to the Student Money Advisers based in many colleges and universities. Find them on www.nasma.org.uk

So find out what you're entitled to and get some advice on how to make the most of your time at university. Visit direct.gov.uk/yourfuture

FUTURE STUDENTS

PAYING FOR UNIVERSITY IN 2012

Most students going to university from September 2012 won't have to pay up front. The cost can be covered by a loan supplied by the government.

Regardless of your household income and the course you choose, you only pay back your fees once you've left university and are earning over £21,000.

Financial support is available to help with living costs. Students may also qualify for a government grant, which doesn't need to be paid back.

So if you really want to go to university, you can make it a reality.

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:

1. Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.

2. 'Classified' Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed 'Trade Advertisers', and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.

To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as 'trade', 'dealer', 'agent', 'wholesaler', '(T)' etc. in the advertisement.

3. The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:

- (a) Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;
- (b) Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or
- (c) Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the Advertiser.

4. The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.

5. Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.

6. The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.

7. Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republication or allowances.

8. All gross advertising rates (except classified lineage and semi-display) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.

9. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.

10. Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.

11. The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.

12. Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.

13. All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.

(1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed.

(2) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should Legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1984.

14. Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect for an advertisement(s) should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.

15. All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.

16. All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers' control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.

17. The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.

18. The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.

Box Numbers

Boxes are open for the receipt of bona fide answers and are not available for distribution of trade canvassing matter. Original testimonials, goods, cash, cash stamps or payments of any kind must not be enclosed. A box Number and postal address are charged as part of the advertisement, i.e. Box No., centre address. There is no charge for forwarding replies.

Box numbers alone are not available for use in 'Trade' advertisements, other than Employment and Business Opportunities.

Big Sam named Irons boss

West Ham United

WEST Ham United have appointed Sam Allardyce as their new manager.

The ex-Blackburn Rovers, Newcastle United and Bolton Wanderers boss comes in following Avram Grant's dismissal following the Irons' relegation from the Premier League.

The 56-year-old has vowed to get the Hammers back into the top division as soon as possible.

He said: "It is a fantastic club with a great tradition and loyal supporters who deserve to be in the Premier League. I can't wait to begin pre-season training as I am determined to get this club back where it belongs."

West Ham were relegated on the penultimate weekend of the season losing 3-2 at survivors Wigan Athletic, with Grant sacked just hours after.

Reserve team coach Kevin Keen had thrown his hat into the ring to become manager, but his hopes took a hit when he was caretaker manager for the Irons' 3-0 home defeat to Sunderland in their final match of the season.

Allardyce, known affectionately as Big Sam, hopes to install a 'winning mentality' in his squad, and says he will not abandon West Ham's football philosophy.

He said: "I wouldn't have contemplated the job if I didn't think there was the opportunity to build something substantial at West

Ham.

"That's what I'm looking forward to, managing a club that wins more games than it loses and competing at the top of the table. We need to create a winning mentality and give the fans a team they can be proud to watch."

"At Upton Park, we'll attempt to play the kind of passing game the fans want. We will aim to continue in the same way on our travels but we'll also be tough, hard to beat and utterly resilient."

Brentwood win again

PREMIER DIVISION

IT'S four wins in four for Brentwood who won by four wickets over Wanstead on Saturday.

The reigning champions - looking for their third straight title - had a comfortable time of it, bowling out the east Londoners for 155. Aaron West and Harri Jones took three wickets apiece while Arfan Akram hit 69.

Colchester & East Essex bounced back from their defeat to Brentwood last week with a 137-run win at South Woodford to go second.

Sam Foster (84) and Atamad Ul Haq were the backbone of their innings of 262, which proved too much for the hosts, with Max Shirt's battling 42 any score of note.

Hainault & Clayhall are level on points with Colchester following their five wicket victory at Loughton, who are still searching for their first league win.

Atif Zafar (101) and Imran Qadir (57) helped Hainault to reach their target of 209. Rizwan Sadiq (61) and Shaun Gymer (53) scored well for Loughton.

Ardleigh Green got back to winning ways, beating Chelmsford by 55 runs.

Royston Smith hit a magnificent 157 not out in Ardleigh's 239-9, with Paul Court taking 5-48. It proved too much for Chelmsford who were all out for 184.

Woodford Wells won by four wickets over Ilford, who batted first and put up 225-7, with Abir Chippa hitting 56. But Maruf Chowdhury's 69 off 58 balls, backed up by opener Robert Marshall's 59, saw Wells claim the spoils.

DIVISION ONE

UPMINSTER go top by a point following their eight wicket win at winless Harold Wood.

The hosts, who were promoted last season, struggled and were all out for 164. Their near neighbours had no problems matching that, with Alan Ison just short of his century with 99.

Shenfield lost the only unbeaten record in the division, losing by 79-runs at home to Buckhurst Hill, who are a point behind them in third.

Hadleigh & Thundersley are in fourth, level on points with Buckhurst Hill, thanks to their three wicket win at Fives and Heronians.

Chingford won by four wickets at Hornchurch with good knocks of 70 and 56 not out for Sains and MacMurray respectively.

Gidea Park & Romford are also searching for their first win of the season, going down by 24-runs at Orsett.

DIVISION TWO

IT'S still level pegging at the top with both Harlow and Walthamstow still yet to taste defeat.

Leaders Harlow won by two wickets over Wickford thanks to Ahmed Khawaja's unbeaten innings of 116, while Walthamstow defeated Horndon on the Hill by 14 runs.

Leigh lead three teams on 50 points in third, beating bottom side Hutton by 82 runs.

Old Southendians & Southchurch dropped down following their 105-run defeat at Southend EMT, while Westcliff recorded an impressive 152-run victory over Stanford Le Hope.

DIVISION THREE

BENFLEET are the only team now with a 100 per cent winning start, beating Billericay by 68 runs to end their record and dropping them to fourth.

Basildon & Pitsea moved up to second following their huge 181-run win over Woodford Green.

Old Brentwoods are third thanks to their five-wicket win over Ongar, while West Essex tasted success, winning by four wickets at Belhus.

Old Parkonians won by 15 runs at Epping to leave them propping up the table.

Mitchell ready to take his chance

Boxing

KEVIN Mitchell has admitted it will be hard to come back if he loses to John Murray when they meet for the WBO Intercontinental lightweight title in July.

The Dagenham Destroyer and the Mancunian will fight in the Frank Warren Promotions event, entitled North 'n' South at the ExCeL Arena on Saturday, July 9, with a world title shot on the line for the winner.

Mitchell, a former world title challenger, said: "This will be an absolute classic."

"I let myself down, my family down and my fans down when I wasn't properly prepared for the Michael Katsidis fight."

"I've got another chance now against Murray, and I plan on taking it.

"Murray's a great fighter and I have got massive respect for him. But when I am at my best, I will beat him."

"If I lose it will be hard to come back, that's why winning is my only option."

But Murray, who has vacated his European title in order to focus on Mitchell, hit back by promising victory.

"I've seen a lot of Kevin's fights, and I am preparing for the very best he can possibly be," said the undefeated Mancunian.

"But even that won't be good enough."

"I don't care that I am coming into Mitchell's backyard, it will just make it all the sweeter when I knock him out."

Rower Mark helps with draw for the London Youth Games

London Youth Games

ROMFORD rower Mark Hunter had the chance to witness some of the draws for this year's London Youth Games recently.

The former Havering team competitor and now Olympic rowing champion viewed the draw at the National Lottery headquarters.

The Games have been supported by £1.425million of Lottery funding via Sport England since 2005 and are Europe's largest annual youth sports event.

In 2010, the event celebrated the most successful year in its 34 year history with a record 64,000 young people aged 7-18 participating across 30 sports in 33 London boroughs.

During the special draws, each of London's boroughs were allocated a Lottery ball number in alphabetical order and were then drawn at random by The National Lottery machines Arthur and Guinevere.

The borough teams will take part in the qualifying rounds at Redbridge Sports Centre on June 11 and 12 where they will try and qualify for the Finals Week at the National Sports Centre, Crystal Palace on Thursday, June 30, to Sunday, July 3.

Hunter said: "Competing as a youngster for my home borough of Havering at the London Youth Games was a truly great experience and an important staging post on my journey to the Olympic podium."

"It just shows that you can progress from the London Youth Games to the very top."

"Now as an elite athlete I benefit from Lottery funding, which means I have access to some of the best coaches and training facilities that the UK has to offer, which are supporting me as I aim for London 2012."

New homes in Essex offer good rental returns

Property investors seeking to create or add to a buy-to-let property portfolio, may be interested in Explore Living's latest collection of new homes in Essex which yield a potential annual rental return of around 7%, according to the new home developer.

The housebuilder reports that some completed new homes at the Lumina development are already achieving a gross yield of 7%, with prices starting ranging from £149,995 to £224,995. Explore Living have even removed all the stress of finding a tenant as many of the new build apartments are already occupied.

Lumina comprises of 32 one and two bedroom apartments available for sale and is situated near to Chadwell Heath Station, which provides frequent direct links to London Liverpool Street in around 20 minutes.

John Inglis, sales and marketing Director of Explore Living, commented: "The apartments at Lumina offer a fail safe investment opportunity. The development is located close to the city and central London yet at affordable prices making it very popular to professionals and couples and as a result demand has been high and the apartments let quickly."

Lumina has formed an integral part of the regeneration of Chadwell Heath, becoming the first Brownfield site in recent years to be transformed into new homes.

As well as offering good rental returns, property prices in Essex are expected to rise moving forward.

Almost 80 per cent of homeowners still expect prices to rise in the next 5 years and only 11 per cent believe prices are set to decline over the same period according to research from Your Move estate.

Consequently, it comes as little surprise that a growing number of overseas investors are buying new build homes in this country.

In London, for example, Global property consultants Knight Frank has reported that nearly 60 per cent of all new-build homes in London's central districts that has been sold in the six months to the end of April 2011 was snapped up by buyers in the Far East.

It reports that properties in the £400,000 to £1 million bracket are proving particularly popular with this buying sector.

"Asia is the fastest-growing region for cross-border sales of London property," says Neil Batty, Head of Knight Frank IPM. "Having established this business with significant success in Hong Kong, Singapore and Malaysia, we are now rapidly expanding into mainland China."
